Letchworth Garden City

Letchworth Garden City is well placed to serve London, East of England, Midlands and the whole of the South East, and sits between two international airports.

It has a population of 34,318 (2021 Census) and is located in North Hertfordshire, approximately 32 miles north of London.

The town has direct access to the A1(M), which offers links to the M25, 20 minutes to the south. Letchworth Garden City mainline railway station provides a direct service to main London stations (36 minutes) and Cambridge (25 minutes) and is well located for the international airports at both Luton and Stansted.

Ground Floor

The perfect blend of history and heritage, and state of the art business facilities, customisable for your needs.

Letchworth Garden City is famous for being the world's first Garden City, conceived by the visionary Ebenezer Howard. Part of that vision was, and continues to be, delivering great places to work. Spirella was designed by Cecil Horace Hignett and completed in 1920. The building was designed as a corset factory, and also played a key part in the Second World War manufacturing military parachutes.

The building now offers flexible terms in state of the art, customisable premises suitable for a range of businesses.
